

A Sales Reporting Application₁

Requirements Statements

1. Build a sales reporting application for the management of a store with multiple departments.
2. Users should be able to select a specific department they are interested in.
3. Upon selecting a department, two types of reports are to be displayed:
 - Monthly report - A list of all transactions for the current month for the selected department.
 - YTD sales chart - A chart showing the year-to-date sales for the selected department by month.
4. Whenever a different department is selected, both of the reports should be refreshed with the data for the currently selected department.
